

CECo Narrative Critical Reading Group

This summer term [2008] we have a further three papers on narrative.

We are aiming to develop a critiquing tool for narrative research by developing our own questions and applying them to the readings. At the first meeting in May we should have a draft document to try but do bring your own suggestions for questions with you.

If you know of any other colleagues interested in narrative research please feel free to invite them to come along. All papers are accessible electronically via the university library web site.
